Statement by Bill Campbell, Mayor, City of Atlanta
<http://www.atlanta-airport.com/1frame.html>

WELCOME BY MAYOR CAMPBELL

Historians have said that the prosperity and growth of Atlanta and its airport are indelibly linked to each other. No time in our history was this more evident than in 1996 when the City of Atlanta and Hartsfield Atlanta International Airport welcomed the world for the Centennial Olympic Games.

For most international visitors, their first impression of Atlanta was that of Concourse E, the 2.4 million-square-foot International Concourse. The largest international concourse in the nation, Concourse E can process 6,000 international passengers an hour, transporting our guests in and out of the airport quickly and safely.

Hartsfield also instituted the massive Hartsfield Improvement Program for 1996 to create a more user-friendly airport. The results of this $250 million renovation program are incredible, beginning and ending with the new 225,000-square-foot, three-story Atrium. This skylit oasis will become the signature of the revitalized Hartsfield and will provide a comfortable place for people to meet, eat, and shop.

Hartsfield Atlanta International Airport will play an important and active role as Atlanta solidifies its position as an international city and the transportation hub of the Southeast. My congratulations and appreciation to all who have worked to make our City's airport the finest in the world.

Sincerely,
Bill Campbell
Mayor, City of Atlanta

CITY OF COLLEGE PARK (FULTON/CLAYTON COUNTIES)

INTRODUCTION/HISTORY

Gateway to the world and within two hours of 80% of the nation's population via Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport, College Park is part of the Atlanta Metropolitan Area and is located ten minutes south of Atlanta's downtown business district on Interstates 85 and 285 and U.S. Highway 29. Like East Point, College Park also owes its origin to the railroad as it was built on a spur track from the Atlanta and West Point Road. The first settlers came around 1746 and the town was first called Atlantis City. In 1890, the city was incorporated as Manchester. Later the name was changed to College Park in honor of Cox College, a music conservatory for women which was financed largely by the Cox family.

ELECTRICITY

Through the Municipal Electric Authority of Georgia (MEAG), one of the State's largest statewide transmission and power generation systems, College Park Power can reliably serve any size electrical load while maintaining a competitive cost for service. Consumers with an electrical demand in excess of 900KW may choose College Park Power to supply power when locating anywhere in Georgia.

WATER/SEWER

College Park's water is treated by the City of East Point. College Park participates in the Morning Creek and Camp Creek Treatment Plants with Fulton County, the Flint River Treatment Plant with the City of Atlanta and in the Three Rivers Water Quality Management Program. Specific capacity information is available upon request.

NATURAL GAS/ALTERNATE ENERGY

Service is provided by Atlanta Gas Light Company and is available to new and expanding customers on both a firm and an interruptible basis.

AVAILABLE LAND AND BUILDINGS

Over 500 acres of commercial and industrial property adjoining Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport are available as are a variety of other sites and buildings.

LABOR FORCE

Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport, with some 38,000 employees, is the largest employment district in the State. College Park's principal manufacturing industries are related to food and kindred products and to concrete products. Other industries include paper, chemicals, fabricated metal, printing and publishing, petroleum and related industries, rubber and plastics, and electrical machinery. Service-related employment is a dominant growth sector in the City and over 2,000 new service sector jobs have been created since 1991. The annual average labor force for the area was 1,718,076 in 1996 according to the Georgia Department of Labor.

TRANSPORTATION

Atlanta Hartsfield International Airport in College Park is the hub for flight operations in the Southeast and currently provides 2,100 daily flights to 180 U.S. cities, 140 nonstop. The new Midfield Central Passenger Terminal Complex makes the Airport the largest in the world. The Metropolitan Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority (MARTA) provides public transportation to the Atlanta Airport, downtown Atlanta, and surrounding communities. Rail service is provided by CSX Transportation with piggyback service and a rail classification yard located just north of the city limits. Motor freight service includes 61 terminals within the Atlanta Commercial Trucking Zone and the highway system includes Interstates 85 and 285, U.S. Highway 29 and Georgia Highways 314, 139 and 279.

TAX AND FINANCE

The City's ad valorem tax rate of $7.50 per $1,000 of fair market value is the lowest in the area: Fulton County's rate is $34.70, Clayton County's $23.24 while the effective tax rates outside the city limits are $40.78 and $35.13. The College Park Business and Industrial Development Authority issues tax-exempt industrial revenue bonds for creditworthy companies that wish to build facilities in the City. The latest issue of $37 million was let for the City of College Park to build the 310,000 square foot Federal Aviation Administration building housing 1,400 to 1,600 employees.
